TRACKLAYING DELAYED

On the New Route of the Chilsens' Rallway.

A "hitch in the proceedings" temporarily put a stop to to the work of laying the new track of the Chilsens' rallway, at the corner of Market and Twenty-second streat, seaterday. The company had laid its track on the curve at this corner, and was pushing the work up Twenty-second streat, when they were informed that the track did not conform to the ordinance giving them the right of way, as it prescribed that the track abould be upon the established grade of the street. Work was stopped, and Mr. Glichrist requested to mark the established grade at that point. As indicated by him, the grade would be raised at least a foot above the present surface of the street, which would elevate it that far above the adjoining sidewalk on the south. To this Mr. William Zink, the owner of the corner building, naturally objected. It would slio make a bad bank to throw the water into the Centre market. The city authorities were called upon to point out a way out of the difficulty, but this was not easily seen. The ordinance prescribs that the road shall be laid on the established grade. At this point the following out of this provision is would be rincous to adjacent property and result in several damage suits, yet the authorities held that the only remedy would be for Council to so amend the ordinance as to allow the company to continue the work as begin. This would require time, and cause a very serious delay. It was suggested that the sanotion of a majorily of the members of Council be obtained and the work continued, the ordinance to be amended as required afterward. The track if will probably be laid on the original plan of the company, but the present stoppage may make the completion of the new track for travel considerably later than it otherwise would have been accomplished. The company's directors hope to have the new line in operation in a month or so, however.

BIORFICART EASTERN RAILBOAD MOVES.

The New Jersey Central Railroad was recently taken out of the bands of a receiver, and the Reading road has also been released from the receivership under which it has recently been operated. The Reading road subsequently leased the New Jersey Central, giving a five per cent guarantee, the effect of which was at once seen in an advance of five per cent in New Jersey Central stock. It is believed that the Reading management, in which Mr. Vanderbilt is largely interesting more than a mere coal road, and many people imagine that they see in the new activity of the Wheeling & Lake Erie management the haad of Mr. Vanderbilt. While it is not certain that the long talked of through line via Wheeling has been settled upon, there is good reason to state that the managers are looking with greater favor than were before upon Wilceling as an important point on a trunk line from the east to the west. It can also be said that the public here will shorily see more reliable signs of the intentions of the companies than have yet been visible.

Another project.

The property owners and residents on the east side of Main street, north of Tenth, have been very much excited recently by the operations of the surveying corps of the proposed Pennsylvania, Virginia & Obio railroad, the projected line of which strikes the river at the mouth of Cross creek, and runs narallel with the P., W. & Ky. to the city. This corps has been placing sizkes in the grounds of the dwellers in that part of the city, causing them much uneasiness. This feeling is premature, as there is little or no probability that the road will ever be constructed on the line indicated by the stakes. Competent engineers say the obstacles in the way are practically insurmountable, to say nothing of the prohibitory cost of the property which it welld be necessary to condemn. It is believed an arrangement will be made to enter the city over the track of the P., W. & Ky. road.

Bemarkable Animal Intelligence

Remarkable Animal Intelligence.
The following little incident is related as illustrating to what a remarkable extent large animals are capable of receiving instruction and to what an extraordinary degree man's power over them extends. In this case not only rare intelligence, but a vast amount of semony must be brought into play. A medium sized Asiatic elephant in the Barnum and London united shows has been taught to perform the following almost incredible tricks: Dressed as a clown, with a white felt that pushed upon his head, he is brought upon the elevated stage between two of the rings, and mounting a barrel he rolls it backwards and forwards with his fore feet. He then carries a chair with his trunk, sets down in it before a table upon which is placed a bell, rings the bell, orders his dinner, eats it, drinks from a bottle, wipes his mouth with a large napkin, fans himself with a paim leaf fan, stands on his hind legs, on his fore legs, on his head, lies down, sits down upon the ground, rolls over, gets up, holds his trainer on his head, on a plank, plays an orzan, walks on bottles stranged in These, and myrisds of other curious acts, will all be seen next Monday, besides the triple circus in three rings, museum, double menageries, and the Roman hippodrome with its glorious and exciting races. The street parade will take place at 8:30 in the morning and will contain over $1.000,000 worth of valuable, curious and rare objects, and the performances takes place at 2 and 8 r. M. next Monday.

THE WHITE SULFHUE SPRINGS IMBROGLIO.

Sometime in April last Judge Bond, of the United States Circuit Court, appointed A. L. Haulware, of Richmond, receiver of the White Sulphur Springs property, and he got possession of the sme. Judge Jackson, of the District Court, was by this action, in the opinion of many, treates with discourtesy by Judge Bond, though probably not intentionally so. Judge Jackson decided that the action of Judge Bond was irregular, and accordingly issued an order directing the Marshal to take possession of the property, which he did on Saturday. His deputy was met by Judge Bond's receiver, armed with at elegram from His Honor, ordering him not to give over the property to the Marshal. The deputy, however, took possession, and the next thing perhaps will be a rule against the Marshal for contempt. There will possibly be a picnic before the affair is edjusted between the two Judges.

MERCER'S SMALL-TOX RFIDEMIO.

Dr. J. E. Reeves, Secretary of the State Board of Heaith, discredits the report published yesterday, that the small-pox is ravaging Wyoning county. He thinks the report originated from the epidemic in Mercer county, which at the last actives was unabated. A postal card received by Dr. Reeves last evening says that there are now forty cases of the disease in Mercer county, and one hundred persons in addition have been exposed to the contagion. Eight of the sick are reported dying. There are not nurses enough to attend the sick, or attendants enough to bury the dead. Eleven have died of ar. The authorities are doing all they can to stay the disease. There is great difficulty in procuring sufficient vascine matter. This together with the location of the county, its remoteness from the telegraph and its laving no daily mail makes the situation exceedingly unfortunate.

A short time ago, the fact that a colored achool in Long Island had refused to be taught by a white teacher, called forth a lengthy editorial in the New York Sun. A case similar to this occurred here a few years ago. At the demand of some of the negroes, the Board of Education energed a white teacher. But afterwards changing their minds, they concluded only to be taught by one of their own race. Day after day the teacher result to the school house only to find no one there. Not a single scholar attended. Finally the teacher released the Board from its contract, and a teacher "of their own race" was engaged.
